Air Cdme. Jasjit Singh's passing away is an immense loss to the strategic academic community. The Indian security community has lost a true promoter of the country's national security and development. To me, his demise is a great loss. I had an association with him since 1991. He was, and will be, a source of strength and inspiration to the coming generation in solving the national problems. We all should carry forward his legacy. My heartiest deep condolences.
